To

The Huzoor Secretary to the Government of Mysore

Sir,

I have the honor to submit in response to your Dockets noted in the margin*, the following report on the affairs of the Révana Siddeovar temple, Closepet Sub Taluk.

2. The almost monolithic rock known as Révana Siddésvara hill is situated, amidst a cluster of hills about 8 miles from Closepet town, and about 1 mile from Avérhalli on the picturesque Closepet-Kankanhalli Road. There is a Linga temple at the foot of this hill, sheltered by a bathing rock, and known as Bhimesvara. Tradition ascribes the establishment of this temple to Bhima, the 2d of the Pándava brothers. There is also in the same Sanctum Sanctorum another another Lingam, said to have been set up and worshipped by ——————— Dharmarāja, Bhima's elder brother.

3. Ascending the rock by means of steps scooped on the face of the living rock, which are protected by iron railings fixed in it by certain Lingāyet merchants of Bangalore, the peak is reached. There are 2 small steeples on the very top, which are quite a land mark visible from a long dis-tance. Descending a few yards beyond, there is a fissure made by another over-hanging rock, on the margin of which is ensconced another Lingam shrine, known as Renukasvami, and the crevice — serves as a pond containing a supply of good water.

4 These temples command the devotion of a large number of devotees and adherents, chiefly Lingāyets living within the borders of the Province, and also extending as far as Bellary. The pious estimation in which the spot is held may be inferred from the frequency with which the name "Rēvana" or "Revanna"

is met with among the rural communities.

5. The institution formed by these temples receives a monthly Inzori allowance of Rs. 0-15-6, but the revenue derived from the pilgrims and devotees is stated to be considerable, but its exact amount cannot be predicated in the absence of any systematic accounts or arrangements for collection on behalf of the temples. The Pújaris, who, like their confreres of the Hindu religious world elsewhere, do not bear any reputation for sanctity or self-denial, have come to look upon the temple revenues as their own personal estate, and the bulk of the offerings have been regularly disappearing into their pockets. There is however a sum of Rs. 319-12-5 saved and lodged in the Chennapatna Taluk Kacheri as surplus fund to the credit of these Shrines. It is also stated that certain jewels &c. with which the deity is adorned on festive occasions, are lodged at Chennapatna; and a few sealed up by Mr Iyagaraj Iyer in the Ugránanms or strong rooms of the lower temple.

The

The marginally named persons were appointed Dharma Darsis by the Muzrai Superintendent, in order to manage this institution; but they do not seem to have given satisfaction, as I ascertained on personal enquiry on the spot. Their appointment has been cancelled, and no others have yet been selected in their place.

1. Shanmuga Setti
2. Chidambaram Chettiar
3. Sankaranarayana Pillai
4. Chidambaram Pillai
5. Arthanareeswara Dikshitar (Poor Man)

7. A Lingayet ascetic named Eko Rama Jogeswara seems to have pitched upon this spot from 3 or 4 years ago for exploitation, and has been wielding some influence in the management of these temples. His practice of Jogam seems to have invested him with a halo of sanctity and hypernatural power, and has secured for him a number of influential partizans. He occasionally stops at the foot of the hill, and is said to exist chiefly on milk and fruits. His daughter named Kalyanamma is also a recluse, who is said to have renounced the world, and lives shut up all alone in all seasons and and at all times of day and night in a room adjoining the Rénukeswarni temple on the crest of the hill. It is stated that she too is immersed in yogam and divine contemplation. At any rate, she is visible to very few, and I was unable to see her at my visit.

8. At the foot of the hill, on a piece of Government land, the aforesaid Jogêswar had built a thatched shed, in which he had opened a chatram for feeding the pilgrims, and in which certain utensils belonging to the lower temple were being utilized. The late Deputy Amildar Vásudév Row was said to have given verbal permission for the erection of this structure.

9. There was a dispute among the Pújaris regarding succession to the hereditary right of puje. One of the bakdars died a little while ago, leaving a minor son and daughter, who are under the guardianship of the deceased's mother. The party in possession disputed the right of the minor and of his guardian to conduct the worship.

10. Mr. Tyagarāj Aiyer, Assistant Commissioner, was in charge of the current Muzrai work of the District, and was also told off for the jamabandi of the Taluk, soon after I joined the District, as Mr. Raghavachariar was unable to conduct the same. In the course of his operations, he visited the Shrine, and thought it proper to stop the Chaturm as unauthorized, and as the pujari incharge failed to render an account of the temple property in his custody and absconded, he attached and sealed up in 2 of the Ugrāmam rooms of the lower temple sundry articles and jewels which he seized.

11. These proceedings of Mr. Tyagarāj Aiyer seem to have evoked the series of petitions which have been addressed severally to Her Highness the Maharani-Regent, the Government and to the Deputy Commissioner, complaining of unjust interference and high-handedness on the part of the Muzrai Assistant Commissioner, and cannot, I fear, be denied that the Yogîsvara already named has had something to do with their genesis.

12. As soon after getting the records as possible from the Muzroi Assistant, I called upon Mr. Puttanna Chetty, the Sub Division Officer at Closepet, to visit the spot and send me a report of the actual state of things and suggest a modus vivendi for the efficient maintenance of the temples, and to save the revenues thereof from spoliation. Mr. Puttanna Chetty's intelligent report forms a part of the accompanying record.

13. Although the Muzroi grant to this twain of temples is small, its well-being demands that it should be firmly and fully managed by the Muzroi Department. Dharma Darsis are not likely to be of much good, as they will have to be drawn from among the local population, and they will certainly be found, for the present at least, to be below par. I therefore propose that a good resident

Parpattegar

Parpattegar should be appointed for the temple on Rs. 6 a month, to be paid out of the temple surplus funds. There need be no misgivings as to the temple receipts sufficing for the purpose. This superviding official should be a Sengāyel: and Mr. Puttanna Chetty has undertaken to find a fit person of that persuasion to start with.

14. A golaka or collection box should be placed in the temple under lock and key, and all offerings should be deposited in it, to be accounted for to the Muzrai Department. This should be examined monthly, and the contents credited to the surplus funds in the Taluk Kacheri, the ornaments &c. being periodically converted into ready money.

15. Permission should be given to build suitable structure for a chatram at the foot of the hill, and the Jogiswar aforesaid has undertaken to start the charity as early as possible from voluntary contributions from the local population.

There

16. There should be 2 Pujaris at a time to be paid at Rs 4/- each per mensem from the temple surplus. They should be selected from the existing Sahdar family by turns, according to the proportion of each share, and should have no right to the Sánikés to be dropped into the 'golaka', except such small presents in coin as may be given to themselves by pilgrims, as is done elsewhere in well ordered temples. The turns can be arranged and fixed by the Deputy Commissioner.

17. A sweeper on Rs 2/- should also be appointed the necessity for this servant need not be dilated upon. The aggregate monthly expenditure will thus amount to Rs 16 (6+4+4+2)

18. The car procession is another source of dissension on the spot. It used formerly to be carried out on the full moon of the Vaishakha month: it is said that Eko Ráma Gogeswara had it changed for 2-3 years past to the full moon of Chaitra. It is alleged not without truth, - that the the gatherings and consequently the thereby temple receipts have much fallen off. I propose that this festival should again be observed in Vaishakha as before.

19. The temples require repairs, some of them urgently. These should be executed from the 'golaka' takings. An estimate will be prepared for the same.

20 The last item in this affair is the alleged molestation offered to Kalyánamma, the female recluse above adverted to. I have directed that not the slightest interference should be made with her devotions, as long as they do not outrun law or propriety.

21. I inspected the temples on the 25th and 26th Ultimo, in company with Mr. Puttanna Chetty, and the people of the locality, including Éka Rám Jogéswara, were very pleased with the proposed arrangements and have executed executed a Muchelika signifying their unqualified approval, vide paper marked A in the record.

22. The devotees of the temple prayed that a road may be made to the foot of the hill from a village named Kailāncha (corrupt of Kailāsa) about 3 miles on the Kankanhalli Road, and mentioned many a piteous accident and upsetting of carts &c. suffered by pilgrims and others which had occurred in the present rough track. I have instructed the Amildar to induce the ryots and others to make a fair-weather cart track, and there is every probability of the same being an accomplished fact at an early date. It may then become necessary hereafter to supplement local enterprize by a small grant from the surplus funds to render the road a permanent convenience.

23. I may add here that at first a certain amount of obstruction, active active or passive, may be expected from the Rajaris and their partizans, who will be deprived by the measures above recommended of their easily earned perquisites and privileges. But I am sure a modicum of firmness and conciliatory management will ensure their success.

24. All the records in the case are forwarded herewith.

I have the honor to be
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant

Deputy Commissioner

Letter no 154 dated 12th August 1896, from the Dy: Commr Bangalore Dt, regarding the affairs of the Revana Siddes-wara Temple, near Averahalli, in Closepet Sub-Taluk.

Order thereon. No 452-3

This Temple is endowed with a cash Jasdik of Rs 11-10-0 a year; and commanding, as it does, a large number of devotees among the Lingayet Community, the Institution derives a good income from Kanikes and other private contributions.

9. The Deputy Commr. reports that the affairs of the Temple are not at present satisfactorily managed and with a view to place them on a better footing proposes the following arrangements:—

A. To employ an establishment comprising:—

(1) a Parpathegar of the Lingayet caste on a pay of Rs 6 a month,

(2) two Pujaries each on Rs 4 a month they being selected by turns from the existing Hukdar families, and (3) a Sweeper on Rs 2 a month;

the cost of the foregoing establishment costing

Rs 16 a month being met from the Surplus Funds of Rs 319-12-5 now at the credit of the temple for a period of one year and subsequently from the Kanike collections.

B. To place a Golaka or Collection box in the temple under lock and key, all offerings deposited therein being periodically credited in the accounts to the funds of the Temple and the Pujaries having no right to these Kanikes except to such small personal presents in cash as may be given to them by the devotees at the time of ~~the~~ Mangalarthi.

The foregoing proposals of the Dy: Commr. are sanctioned.

3. With regard to the selection by turns of the Pujaris from the existing Hukdar families the Murrar Superintendent having since settled the question after a personal inspection of the Temple the arrangements ordered in his Rukkari to the Deputy Commr. No 503 dated 28th Septr 1896 will be carried out.

4. It is further reported that the date of the annual car festival of the temple has been recently changed without authority from the full moon day of Vaisakha to the full moon day of Chaitra thereby leading to public dissatisfaction and material diminution of the

from the devotees. The Dy. Commr. therefore proposes that the festival may be ordered to be conducted in the month of Vaisakha as before. This proposal is also sanctioned.
